Note:

During the early 1970's, I lived in the Willamette Valley and passed by St. Louis and St. Paul and drove through Woodburn, Oregon, many times; not knowing that my ancestors had lived there. A few years later, I was teaching school in Athen, Oregon, near the Umatilla Reservation. I lived on the reservation and passed by St. Rose Mission and burial grounds, often, not knowing that some of my ancestral uncles and aunts had lived and died there. In school, some of my students were Picards, my distant cousins. But, again, I was unaware of my own heritage and connections with those dear people.

In the 1980's, I learned that the claim of Jean Gingras encompassed Horseshoe Lake. In the work of helping patrons in the Family History Center in Spokane, I helped a young man from Mt. Angel, Oregon, a student at Gonzaga University, find his native roots. I asked him if he knew Horseshoe Lake. He told me he fished it every once in a while, that it was a favorite haunt. Small world. Okanogan, Charlotte Skealks (1805-1845)

Charlotte Okanogan was first the wife of William Pion, to whom she bore a daughter Nancy in 1824. No record has been found of Pion's death, sometime in the 1820's, it appears, for in 1828 Charlotte bore a son Joseph to Jean Gingras and others followed. She and Jean Ginras were married in 1841 at St. Paul and she died in 1845. Some of the children are recorded in St.Paul, as is the death of Charlotte; some few other children in St. Louis

Joseph was the eldest son of Jean Gingras I and Charlotte Okanagan. He married Marianne Bastien in 1848, "daughter of Bastien, living in Canada, and Louise Saste". She was fifteen years old, and a pupil in the Methodist Mission School. The marriage was recorded in St. Louis, as was also the birth of two daughters, Esther and Philomene, while a third daughter, Catherine, was recorded in St. Paul.

Note: His Salish name, N-Pus-Nont translated to mean "not afraid of anything". His birthplace is not likely to have been Manitoba as we have never known Jean and Charlotte, his parents to ever have gone to Canada; all his father's fur trade service was in the Columbia District, so far as we know. Joseph's land on the Spokane Indian Reservation was legally described as follows: W2 E2 E2 SE4, W2 E2 SE4, W2 SE4 S23 T 29 R 36.

Joseph GINGRAS N-Pus-Nont and Marianne BASTIEN were married on 21 Aug 1848 in St. Louis, Marion, Oregon Terr..¹⁴ Marianne BASTIEN, daughter of Louis BASTIEN and Louise SHASTA, was born in 1833 in Oregon Territory. She was christened on 21 Aug 1848 in Ft. Vancouver, Clark, Washington. She died in 1889 at the age of 56 in Spo. Ind. Res., Stevens, Washington. Marianne was buried in 1889 in La Fleur Cem, Stevens, Washington. Her mother was a full-blood Indian; 1/2 Rogue River and 1/2 Shasta. Her father, Louis Bastien, was French. She had been baptized, first, in the Methodist Mission at Ft. Vancouver 28 Jun 1848. She was baptized, again, a few months later, by the Jesuit priest who married them. According to Edgar Desautel, grandson of Marianne, Marianne had some full sisters who had descendants. Among them was a Charles Depot who worked for the BIA at Nespelem, grandson of one of Marianne's sisters. Others were Lefty Wilder of Klamath Falls or some other place in Oregon (still alive in the 1980's); also Al Lentz and Henry Reynolds. No research has been done to prove or disprove this so far. He had been baptized by Methodist Jason Lee in 1835: "...by the request of Mr. Gervais, baptized his son Isaac, who is sick and apparently near his end." The 2 December, 1846, we undersigned missionary of the company of Jesus have baptized Louis Xavier born the day before of the letitimate marriage of Jean Gingras and of Olive Forcier. Godfather, Louis Forcier, godmother Catherine.

Note: I do hope we are not making a mistake by attributing all these records to this Louis Gingras. We have only a short note from Harriet Duncan Munnick in her biography of Louis Gingras to the effect that there were two Louis Gingras. She believed, having studied the Catholic records so carefully and completely, that the older Louis, who was the son of Jean Gingras and Charlotte Skealks Okanagon, had died, and that the Louis who appeared, later, in the Grande Ronde records, was the son of Jean Gingras and Olive Forcier. I, also, did not find Louis, the elder, with Jean and Olive in the 1850 Census of Marion Co., OT. The Louis that was there, was the younger one. The elder Louis, had he been alive, should still have been young enough to have been with the family. K.D.

The following information was courtesy of Edith Oyler of Colville, WA, researched in 1986:

From the divorce paper of Tom and Esther, the Legal Description of Tom Heller's property:

320 acres 5 miles south of Colville (Stevens Co., WA) described as Lots 3 and 4 and south half of the north west quarter (S 1/2 Nw 1/4) Section 4 Township 24 north of Range 39 east of the Willamette Meridian.

Tom Heller secured the deed to the property 23 Jul 1881. They were married in Colville in 1861.

History of North Washington biography of Tom Heller pages 311 and 312.

THE LAST BELL by Alpha Naff: Page 92 - under heading 'Basin' - 'Haller Creek carries the name of Tom Haller, who first saw the Colville Valley about 1856. In 1860 Haller claimed 'squatter's rights' to rich valley land along the creek, as it meandered across the flat to empty into the Colville River, south of what is now Orin.

By the time the creek reached the flat it had collected the waters from several small tributaries, most of which had their beginnings in the Huckleberry Range.

Probably the smallest of these streams rose in the South Basin area. In a short time all available homesteads along its course had been claimed, and from one of these families little Reidel Creek received its name."

"Page 97 - under Orin - 'Aubin School (across the valley from Orin). Harriet Aubin was a school teacher (later on County Superintendent) and conducted the school during the few years it operated - about 1889-1894.

Pupils name ----, Tom Haller's girls, and some of the Dupuis family. The year was 1891.

Tom Haller came to the Colville Valley with the wave of independent homeseekers, between 1855 and 1860, and claimed rich valley land, through which ran the creek that bears his name."

In the museum in Colville, in their copy of "History of North Washington", someone wrote on page 312: "Emeline, wife of Fred Whitney in Springdale."

I also stopped at Helen Dubois' place. She's the lady I told you was born there in Orin in 1906 - on the place where we visited Louis Dubois. (Louis' dad built that house of theirs in 1918 - living in Tom Heller's old homestead before that). Anyway Helen said her mother and Lucy (Heller) Scherette were very good friends. Helen remembers 3 of the 4 children of Lucy - Charles, Mamie and Vina (as she called her). Helen thinks Mamie might still be living - and she knows Vina's son Buddy Mathis and his wife Lillian live over at Inchelium. Vina's first husband was a Stenger (Stensgar). they divorced and later Vina married Tom Mathis. Vina's 2 daughters and son Buddy were from the first marriage however. Helen says Tom Mathis died about a year ago in Davenport.

Helen said if you ever wanted to go to Inchelium and talk to Buddy Mathis and you didn't want to go alone - she'd go with you, because she and Lillian are good friends. Or if you wanted to write, just mention Helen Dubois' name.

THOMAS HELLER lives six miles south from colville on the land which he took by squatter's right in 1860. He is one of the oldest pioneers, is well known all over the valley, and is esteemed by all.

Thomas Heller was born in Jefferson County, Virginia, on August 30, 1822, and with his parents went to Missouri, thence to southern Illinois and finally to Iowa. He received his schooling in these four states and when seventeen learned the cabinet maker's trade. In 1854 Mr. Heller crossed the plains to the Willamette valley and there wrought at his trade and on the farm. In 1855, he enlisted under Captain Lawton and served a year, going to The Dalles, Waala Walla, and other points in fighting the Indians. He was finally mustered out at Albany, Oregon, in August, 1856. Then he returned to The Dalles and was soon in the employ of the government as teamster. In this capacity he met Colonel Steptoe in his retreat from the memorable fight with the Indians. In 1860 Mr. Heller came to the Colville Valley and squatted on his present place. It proved to be one of the three donation claims and he has never used his homestead right on it. Mr. Heller has devoted great labor to improving the estate and adding to its acreage. He has good buildings and receives as annual returns nearly four thousand bushels of grain, one hundred and fifty tons of hay, and much other productions. He has bands of stock and is one of the prosperous men of the valley.

In January 1862, Mr. Heller married Miss Esther, daughter of Joseph and Mary A. Jangreau, of Colville. To this union, seven children have been born, Mrs. Charles Haines, living in Springdale; Philonise, in Ferry County, Washington; Lucy, a widow with her parents and the mother of four children, Charles, Alice, Elvina and Mamie; Mercelina, Deceased; Frank; Emeline, wife of Fred Whitten in Springdale; and Eliza, wife of John Smith in Colville.

Desautels. The father was born in Canada, of French extraction and at the age of eighteen entered the employ of the Hudson's Bay Company, as trader with the Indians. He bought furs of and bartered with the natives all over the Northwest and finally resigned his position and settled at Fort Colville, being among the first actual settlers in the valley. He was well known over the country and he and his wife are now living at Curlew lake in Ferry county. The mother was born near the mouth of the Okanogan river. Our subject was reared at the old home ranch in Colville and the Nespelem country and remained with his parents until he was twenty-three years old. In 1880 he settled on Hunter's creek and nine years later came thence to his present home, it being on the reservation close to the north line. Mr. Desautels has a good farm, supplied with plenty of water, and it produces abundant crops of hay, fruits, and so forth. In addition to his general farming he handles considerable stock.

On November 12, 1880, occurred the marriage of John O. Desautels and Miss Isabel McCoy, daughter of Robert L. and Josette (Finlay) McCoy. To this union the following children have been born, Mrs. Christina Morrell, Agnes, Alfred B., deceased, Eliza, John, Linda, Lucy, Adeline, and Thomas.
