PIONEER OF 1847 DIES

J. E. Carlile Lived in Portland
When It Had Only Two Buildings.

James E. Carlile, an Oregon pioneer of 1847, died recently at his home in Evergreen, Canada. He was born in 1844 in Canada and came to Oregon with his parents when 3 years old. They settled on Deer Creek, in Yamhill County, going from there to San Francisco in 1849, and back to Oregon in 1851.

They settled the second time in Washington County, where Portland now stands. When Mr. Carlile was a boy Portland consisted of two buildings, in one of which were a store and postoffice, and in the other a hotel and saloon. In 1860 he was employed by The Oregonian. Four years later he married Miss Louisa B. Story, the couple having 14 children. In 1870 he moved to Klickitat County, Wash. In 1889 his wife died and he married Mrs. Jane Greenway.

After this Mr. Carlile lived on the Coquille River, at Eden Prairie, at Camas, and in Alberta, Canada. The funeral took place May 6.

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Cottage Grove Couple, Natives of Hillsboro, Wed 30 Years.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., May 19.—
(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. A. Young,
residents of this vicinity since 1894,
have just celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary on their farm near here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Young were born near Hillsboro, Oregon, but that fact is a mere coincidence, as far as their marriage is concerned.

Mrs. Young, who was Phebe E. Carlile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E.
Carlile, left Hillsboro when a year of age, going to Washington, where Mr.
Young moved after reaching manhood,
met and in 1887 married the girl born in the same neighborhood in which he was born. They moved to Douglas County, Oregon, in 1893, and to Cottage Grove a year later.
